THE PROGRAMME

TOTAL SOCIAL FREEDOM

The Asia Experience offers the fastest way on earth to learn how to meet women in real life.

Picture this: seven days in Bangkok, structured coaching from sunrise to sundown with some of the world's greatest dating experts. Your social skills will be rebuilt in daylight and tested under neon.

You'll probably arrive overthinking every move, but you'll leave decisive, expressive and unapologetic. You'll leave as a new man: one who is socially poised, confident in any situation, and fantastic with women.

This is not a boot camp. This is a seven-day transformation experience, a live, real-world immersion for accomplished men who are done relying on apps and want to gain a genuine sense of agency in their dating lives.

THE CITY

WHY BANGKOK

Forget whatever picture of Bangkok you're carrying in your head right now. It's likely to be years out of date. What's here now is one of the most dynamic capitals on earth, with elegant hotels and restaurants, fascinating culture, neon lights over the skyline, and rooftop bars stacked twenty stores above the milieu.

An international crowd fills it, including some of the most beautiful women on the planet. Thais and other Asians, Russians, Europeans and Latinas: they're all here, experiencing one of the greatest locales on the planet to live, work and play.

Those rooftop bars are the stuff of legend, and there's no end to them. There are also speakeasies behind doors with no sign, serious cocktail bars, whiskey bars and hidden spots you'd only find if someone showed you. There are after-hours clubs that don't watch the clock and beer gardens spilling onto the pavements: whatever the mood, there's a bar built for it.

And the social opportunities are unrivalled: walk five minutes in any direction and the city hands you a reason to talk to someone. A market stall, a rooftop queue, a cafe. Everywhere you go you'll meet women from all around the world, alongside travellers and expats from each corner of the globe. English is spoken everywhere, so the only thing standing between you and a conversation is you.

Bangkok has also become a real business hub, spoken of the same way people speak of Dubai or Hong Kong. Executives, entrepreneurs, and a growing wave of high-net-worth individuals, Northern Europeans, Russians, and Ukrainians among them, have made it home, many of them in just the last five years. The city is still changing in real time.

And you get access to all of this without the price tags of London, New York, Paris, Toronto or Sydney. The world-class hotels, rooftop bars, and restaurants here are all within easy reach.

Best of all, we know this city. We know where to go, when, and what actually works, so none of your seven days will get lost figuring it out.

DAY ONE TO SEVEN

DAYTIME

ENDS ON A ROOFTOP

Every day you'll be out with our coaches in the real world, not sitting in a classroom. A coffee shop conversation will become a lesson in presence; a walk through the market will turn into a masterclass in charm.

Nine-storey shopping malls here stay buzzing from dawn until dusk; an entire day's worth of social opportunities under one roof. Skyline gym sessions and cold plunges sharpen the mind, and the day always finds its way to a rooftop bar as the sun sets over the city.

Our philosophy:

- Flirt with the world
- Start conversations anywhere
- Skill, not luck
- Quality, not quantity

AFTER DARK

NIGHTLIFE

Bangkok comes alive after sunset. You'll experience rooftop bars pouring golden light over the skyline, private lounges, and clubs that don't slow down until sunrise. Women from every corner of the globe pass through this city, and you'll be right in the middle of it, coached in real time.

You'll finally learn how to:

- Open conversations in any venue
- Build attraction quickly
- Turn phone numbers into dates
- Take women on dates with ease

WHO THIS IS FOR

Your dating life is the missing piece.

This immersion is for men in their late twenties to late fifties with good careers. They look good and their lives are together. They are successful. But they rely on dating apps, and apps are a terrible replacement for real-world connection.

For thousands of years, men met women in person: this is the skill we teach.

Perhaps your friends have settled down. In Bangkok, on our programme, you'll be surrounded by other men in the same position, all with the same mission. Here you'll find camaraderie, accountability, and a shared challenge. This is where men who've lost their tribe find one again.

THE PART PEOPLE UNDERESTIMATE

THE BROTHERHOOD

You won't be doing this alone anymore. Instead of being the lone guy forcing himself to talk to women, you'll be surrounded by other men pushing through the exact same issues.

Men bond when they do difficult things together, and setbacks become part of the story instead of regrets. Get rejected by a woman? You'll laugh about it with the group, reset, then go again. What frequently comes out of this type of unique bonding experience isn't a polite, forgettable friendship. It's wingmen, business contacts, and travel partners you'll still be in touch with years later, relationships built with the other men on the programme as well as the coaches running it.

We're deliberate about who attends our programmes. The group is put together carefully, so everyone in it is pulling you forward, not holding you back. We select men who are challenging enough to push one another but easy-going enough to have a great time as well.

Training by day; dates, dinners, rooftop bars, and parties by night. There'll be stories, wins, the odd disaster, and plenty of laughs along the way. We take your results seriously; we don't take ourselves too seriously.

EARL, FORMER CLIENT

Required a style upgrade

THE ASIA EXPERIENCE

THE UPGRADE

LEAVE WITH MORE THAN CONFIDENCE

We don't just revolutionise your social skills. We will also create a new archetype for you through photo sessions and a comprehensive style upgrade that will travel with you after you leave us.

Imagine: a camera pointing at you on a rooftop at golden hour, catching a version of you that you never quite believed existed before.

A tailor at Patrick and Co running a tape over your shoulders, creating a bespoke suit specifically for the contours of your body, not one merely pulled off a rack.

Walk out of a final fitting with our tailor and the whole city will look at you differently.

Every photo, every profile, every piece of content we help you create, shot on location around the city, will be ready to go straight onto your phone before you've even left. You already know the power of social media: think for a moment about the opportunities this new digital version of you will create.

Understand: this is not an afterthought, but a core pillar of the programme.

HOW YOU ACTUALLY IMPROVE

THE FEEDBACK LOOP

This isn't one of those weekend seminars where you sit in a hotel conference room taking notes. It's seven days in a major international city gaining real-life social experiences until talking to someone new stops feeling like stepping off a ledge.

Every day stacks on the last: you'll do consistent reps rather than a handful of attempts followed by another month's retreat to the sofa where you tell yourself you'll do it properly next time.

Coaching gets folded into the day itself, while you're spotting someone on the gym floor, queuing for the cold plunge, ordering a drink at the rooftop bar, wandering the mall and so on. By the time you fly home, social interactions won't be something you switch on for an exercise; they'll be something you perform naturally, without even thinking about it.

If you would like us to do so (and we recommend it), your interactions will be filmed discreetly. (This will not be released. It's for your own personal learning process, so you can hear yourself and review what you're saying, so we can give you precise feedback.) Later, you'll sit down with your coach and watch them back. It's a strange, sobering, occasionally hilarious experience: seeing yourself the way that woman saw you. That hesitation you didn't know was there, the line that actually landed. Once you've seen how you come across, you can't unsee it, and it's one of the quickest ways of getting better in this area.

Learn something new. Try it. Get feedback. Adjust. Try it again. Do that every day for a week. You won't just get better at approaching women; you'll become a different man by day seven.

BEYOND THE SEVEN DAYS

LIFE AFTER BANGKOK

The programme doesn't end when your flight home leaves. Instead, we support you via WhatsApp chats, voice notes and calls as you build on what you have learned.

Meanwhile, some men catch the bug for Asia itself, its pace, ease and the space to breathe it offers, and start planning to spend more time exploring it.

There's also a quieter group: men further into their careers who've tried dating at home and found it exhausting, and for whom Asia isn't just a vacation, but a place where things start to make sense again.

Whichever path you choose, your connection with us doesn't end at the airport.
